Trevino Denies the Report of Capture Of Chihuahua City

Commandant of Carranza Garrison Predicts the Capture of Entire Villa Band Very Soon Now.

VILLA ONLY 20 MILES OUT OF THE CITY

Party in Honor of Prospective Bride

Sister of Miss Hilda Johnson Gives
Attractive and Unique Party

Miss Hilda Johnson gave a very attractive and unique party last evening at her home on Daisy street in honor of her sister Miss Hilda Johnson whose wedding will take place next month.

Many interesting and new games were played among which was the fortune wheel which caused much excitement.

Covers were laid for twenty five. Butterflies fluttering from the chandeliers with a ribbon attached to each glass. At the end of the ribbon was a butterfly with the date of the wedding which will be October the fifth.

AMERICAN PEACE MOVE ENTIRELY UNLIKELY

By Ed. L. Kean
London, Sept. 22.—(United Press)—Americans conversant with inside allied sentiments feel certain that a move on the part of the United States to start negotiations for peace in Europe at an early date, is entirely unlikely. The leaders of the allies are determined to assume all responsibility for continuation of the war or until Germany gives up if this is necessary.

MORE STRIKE INJURIES

New York, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Ten persons were seriously injured today when a taxicab in which they were being carried to work because of the street car strike, collided with a coal truck on Avenue A and 20th street.

KAISER AT KOVEL FRONT

Copenhagen, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Kaiser Wilhelm has arrived at Kovel front according to advices received here today. It is believed that Von Hindenberg is to inaugurate a drive against the Russians.

SLIGHT AUTO ACCIDENT

An auto and buggy both driven by women, collided at the corner of Market and Second streets yesterday but fortunately no serious damage was done.

LITTLE CHILD DEAD

Robert, the interesting little three-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ammerman, died at the family home on West Front street this morning after an illness of about one week. The cause of death was colitis.

MORE TROOPS TO BORDER

Washington, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Two infantry battalions from Wyoming, two from Kansas and two from Wisconsin were today ordered to the border by the war department.

GREECE AND THE GREEKS

Mythology derived the name Greece from an ancient king, Graecus. The Greeks are fabled to have been the progeny of Javan, fourth son of Japheth.

Athens, the Greek capital, has a population about equal to that of Toledo, Ohio.

Agriculture is the chief industry of Greece and the principal exports are ores, wines, fruits and olive oil.

The national flag of Greece consists of nine stripes, alternate white and blue with a white cross in the blue field.

Education is compulsory in Greece between the ages of 5 and 12, but a large proportion of the population is illiterate.

New York, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—General Trevino, commandant at Chihuahua City sent from Chihuahua city to Juan Burns, Mexican consul here the following telegram: "Permit me to inform you that the reported attack and capture of Chihuahua city is incorrect. My forces have entirely defeated Villa's men. One set of the bandits which attacked the city, did not get away alive. I do not have any doubt that the entire Villista band will be annihilated soon. This attacking I believe was done with the intention of influencing the conference at New London in the American-Mexican conference, or for political interests. They themselves are now satisfied with their failure."

El Paso, Sept. 22.—Although Pancho Villa is only 20 miles out of Chihuahua City, according to official announcement made by the Carranza commanders at Juarez, "vigorous pursuit" of the bandits and his followers has not been taken up since General Trevino is still conferring with his chiefs in regard to the outlaws. Many of the Carranza soldiers have joined Villa on the retreat from Chihuahua city, General Gonzales has received a report that all had abandoned their intention of joining the bandits.

CARRANZA SOLDIERS MASSACRED BY VILLISTAS

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Two British subjects and 36 out of 38 Carranza soldiers were killed by Villistas near Tula, September 16th, according to officers of the steamer Topito which arrived here today. The attack was made in conjunction with the raid on Chihuahua City.

MILLIONAIRE'S FORMER ATTORNEY MORRISON HELD FOR PERJURY

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—After a dramatic scene in Federal Judge Landis' court today during which Edward W. Morrison, aged millionaire faced and gave the lie to his accusers, Judge Landis ordered John R. Ward, Morrison's former attorney, held for perjury under a $15,000 bond and also perjury charges were brought against Joseph Bernstein. After reviewing the discrepancies in Ward's testimony, the judge criticised Ward and Bernstein severely. "The wells of perjury have never been so forcibly touched as in this case," Edward Harris a former stenographer and Jos. Simmons, jeweler, said that Morrison had spent $200,000 with them, and were held on $2,000 bail as witnesses.

HUGHES' HEALTH IMPAIRED

Muncy, Ind., Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Governor Hughes is just on the frayed edge of a complete breakdown, today and both his personal physician and Mrs. Hughes put up a fight against his filing the second day of his stay in Indiana of the most strenuous programme of speaking that a presidential candidate ever attempted. For a time today cancellation of his speaking engagements was considered but the Governor refused to disappoint the audiences already arranged for, and announced that he would go through with program. Mrs. Hughes got busy with the managers of the train asking them to curtail all speeches, and a delay in switching trains at Anderson aided in this plan.

HOSPITAL BRIDGE WHIST

The Hospital Bridge club held another successful meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Patton in Curwensville yesterday afternoon. Many ladies enjoyed the lovely ride to Curwensville besides the very social afternoon which was spent playing cards. There were eight tables of bridge and three of five hundred. Twelve dollars was realized.

Mabe British Use This Tractor Against Germans

British forces in their tremendous drive against the Germans on the west front, it has just developed, have used some kind of enormous American agricultural tractor, which they have armored and sent against the Germans like a land monitor. This is a tractor made in Peoria, Ill., and those used by the British government were made by the same concern. The idea was developed by Winston Churchill long ago. How successful the American tractor has been in crossing the trenches and slaying Germans the British have not yet reported.

THIRD & MARKET CROSSING HAS AN ACCIDENT

T. J. Norris, Hit by Auto Last
Night During Hail Storm and
Sustains Broken Ribs

AUTO KEEPS RIGHT ON GOING

One of those minor accidents which the Progress mentioned in an editorial calling the attention of the borough authorities to the dangerous condition which exists on account of the narrow driveway on Third street, occurred last night, when T. J. Norris, the well-known tailor, was struck by an automobile while attempting to cross the street and thrown back to the curb, receiving a couple of fractured ribs and other minor bruises.

The accident occurred about 10:30 in the midst of the severe hailstorm which struck this section about that time. Mr. Norris, hurrying from the storm, was in the middle of the narrow street when an automobile drove out of the mist, and before he could jump out of danger, struck him in the side, hurling him to the street. The driver of the car never stopped but throwing on full speed ahead darted up Market street and out Second street toward Curwensville.

Several people who witnessed the accident attempted to get the number of the machine but were unable to do so.

Mr. Norris was taken to the office of Dr. Waterworth, where his injuries were attended to and where it was found that besides suffering the fractured ribs mentioned above he was also suffering from severe contusions and bruises and will be off duty for several days as the result of his injuries.

Meanwhile the Progress insists that it is up to the borough authorities to see that the driveway on Third street is enlarged as it should be, in order that a more serious accident might be avoided.

RETURNED FROM WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kennard of South Second street, returned last evening from a delightful western trip, which extended over a period of almost three months and embraced Yellowstone National Park the Pacific coast and British Columbia.

The trip was taken in the interest of Mr. Kennard's health and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he comes home very much improved. Dick says they found some nice country and fine climate, but aside from the climate none of the state through which he passed had anything on old Pennsylvania.

SHE HORSEWHIPS MAN AND HIS ALLEGED AFFINITY

Wife Enters Pittsburg Movie
House and Severely Punishes
Husband and Companion

PATRONS OF HOUSE IN PANIC

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—One woman was in a critical condition today and many have severe cuts and bruises as the result of a panic following the horse-whipping of a man said to be S. E. Lowrie of 1420 Liverpool St., and a young woman of unascertained identity beside whom he was sitting in a north side motion picture show.

A woman giving the name of Mrs. Lowrie was the whipper. Just as she was passing the place she saw Lowrie enter the theatre apparently with a young woman for whom he held the door open. Mrs. Lowrie hurried home secured the whip, and went back to the theatre. Forcing past the ticket seller and ushers, she started down the aisle and found Lowrie sitting beside the woman for whom he had held the door open. She administered the whip severely upon her husband then turned her attention to the supposed affinity. One woman fainted, and many rushed to the exits.

Lowrie and the woman were arraigned before the police court, where the former explained that he had never seen the woman before and did not know her. His wife said that she believed his story and they left the court room together.

Announce Engagement At Pretty Luncheon

Miss Miriam Anderson to wed Maxwell Steel of Huntingdon in the Fall

At a luncheon today at the home of D. W. Anderson on West Locust street the engagement of Miss Miriam Anderson and Maxwell W. Steel of Huntingdon, Pa., was announced. Covers were laid for twelve, the color scheme was blue and white and in the center of the table was a beautiful arrangement of asters. Miss Ruth Mattern of Huntingdon and Miss Louise Owens of Tyrone were the guests of honor.

Following the luncheon tally cards were passed for bridge and tied to the cards were little envelopes in which were little pieces of paper when put together made a heart with the announcement on it. Miss Anderson's wedding will take place late in the fall.

STREET PAVING BEING RUSHED ON DAISY ST.

Officials Say Paving Cost Will
Be With Estimate Made for
Bond Issue Work

LABOR SCARCITY A HANDICAP

The busiest place in Clearfield these days is on Daisy street where a force of seventy-five men under the direction of the Highway Department of Council is engaged in repaving the street.

This work has been under way the past two months and weather permitting they expect to have it completed by October 1st.

The committee has been greatly handicapped on this job by scarcity of labor first, and then to add to their difficulties they ran out of stone and later on the water supply failed and they were unable to make satisfactory progress with the concrete base for the brick by reason of insufficient water to run the mixer.

All this was remedied last week and the work has been progressing rapidly since that time. Up to last night the concrete base was completed to Fifth street leaving but two blocks to be finished and it was the expectation of Supt. Hughes that he would be able to complete that work by Tuesday next and then move his outfit over to Nichols street which will then be rushed to completion before cold weather sets in. Brick has been laid on Daisy street midway between Seventh and Eighth streets and first four blocks paved already opened to traffic. A tar filler is being used on the brick paving and as fast as the tar dries the street is opened to travel.

The work is now being shoved along rapidly by Foreman Sheehy, Hughes, Moselberger and Time Keeper Guppy and officials say unless bad luck is encountered from here out both streets will be completed at a cost well within the estimates and amounts provided in the bond issue.

Owing to unforeseen conditions the work progressed slowly at first but everything is humming now and will be kept going at a rapid pace until both streets are completed. The work is being well done and a visit to Daisy will disclose a finely paved street.

OFF FOR THE WEST

Mrs. J. M. Troxell and son Milton, left Thursday for a visit with relatives in Denver, Colorado. They were joined at Berwinstale by Mrs. Troxell's sister, Mrs. James McKee and son John who will make the trip with them.

SECOND WEEK OF CIVIL COURT IS AT AN END

Glen Hope Damage Case
Abruptly When Plaintiff
Parts From State

VERDICT IN INSURANCE

The case of H. M. Fries vs. the Borough of Glen Hope was taken up in civil court Thursday morning. In the case Mr. Fries sought to recover damages to his mill property in Glen Hope due to a collapse of a dam. It appears that the dam collapsed in a small stream or water course and was a culvert across the stream which was insufficient in size to carry the water of said stream at flood times.

An extra large flood occurred in 1911 and the water flooded Mr. Fries' mill, destroying a lot of phosphate, flour, etc. stored in the basement of the mill. The thing occurred in 1915 and as a result Mr. Fries entered suit against the borough asking for $300 damages.

The plaintiff was represented by Cole & Hartwick, while John M. Urey, Esq. had charge of the defense for the borough. The case was brought to a sudden close during the afternoon when the plaintiff attempted to prove some things that did not appear in his statement of facts. Objection was made and on plaintiff's offer to amend, the defendant's attorney plead surprise and the case called right there, and court ended on the week.

The jury in the case of Thompson et al., against the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia and the Hartford Fire Insurance Co., returned a verdict of $117,000 damages. The total and of $320,000 claimed by the Thompson company, being the balance claimed on the policies for which suit was brought.

Dr. Ament Leaving Indiana Normal

Will go to National Park Seminary
in Washington, D. C.

Dr. James Ament who has been the guiding genius of Indiana Normal for the past ten years, is to leave that institution. Dr. Ament is to be affiliated with Joseph O'Brien, Treasurer of Pittsburgh, who purchased the National Park seminary that famous exclusive suburban school for girls at Washington, D. C. The institution is the finest of American private schools for girls. The purchase of the school by Mr. O'Brien was not a financial move on his part, he stated, but that the school had been bought for his friend, Dr. Ament. The entire management of the school will rest in the hands of Mr. O'Brien and Dr. Ament.

Dr. Ament will not leave Indiana Normal for a year so that the trustees will have ample time to select a successor. Dr. Ament is an educator of national reputation, widely recognized as the veritable genius in the management of a school.

GERMANY MASSSES LARGE FORCES

By Ed. L. Kean

London, Sept. 22.—(United Press)—Germany will set another peace line flying about the middle of October, British officialdom both military and civil confidently expect. News from apparently authentic sources have reached London that the Germans are massing huge forces because of the recent allied offensive.

British troops continued a great drive on the Somme and captured 2 lines of German trenches on a mile front last night, General Haig reported this afternoon. The gains were made on Fiers and Martinpuich. South of Arras the British troops captured some trenches. In the Balkans there was a fierce encounter near Vratsko, and the Serbians are actively pursuing the retreating army of Bulgars, who have been thrust back north of Florina. Violent attacks were made on the French lines north of the Somme, but were repulsed by French troops.

Mrs. L. G. Rank, Mrs. J. Rank, Mrs. Dunwidde of Philadelphia were shopping in town yesterday.

WAR, THE DUAL CREATOR OF HATE AND CHARITY

War is all and more too than General Sherman said it was, but it will be to the everlasting credit of the American nation to recall that during the first two years of this awful European war the American people have contributed $28,886,000 to lighten its burden for those innocent non-combatants in the different countries devastated.

AN OBJECT LESSON

The Philadelphia Board of Health has ordered prosecutions in 100 cases of owners of stables maintaining open or uncovered manure pits following a statement from Dr. Dixon to the effect that he believed the infantile paralysis germ was carried by flies breeding in uncovered manure pits.

Dr. Dixon has also been able to infect monkeys with the disease from flies, captured in the room of an infantile paralysis victim by merely placing the flies in the same cage as the animals.

The Philadelphia action should point the way for our local board of health and serve as a warning to violators of the recent clean-up notice.

Do not be selfish enough to place self interest above the common good or public health.

A CASE FOR THE CLEANER

Clearfield is spending a great deal of money for permanent improvements and beautifying its streets and general appearance. The results of persistent activity along this line are very noticeable but there are a few spots that need attention badly and we desire to suggest that the Womens Club, the Civic Club, the Chamber of Commerce and all other organizations petition the New York Central to clean up the lot alongside of the River-view Hotel where the ties are piled. The piling of ties on this plot of ground would not be so objectionable were they piled in order and the plot kept clean but today it presents the appearance of a lumber yard after a hurricane. It might be encouraging to those of town who are interested in its appearance to know that there is a well founded rumor that plans are being made for a new depot at Clearfield. As a drowning man grasps a straw, absorb this bit of encouragement and politely request the cleaning up of the tie yard.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

"Across the Straits of Otranto, where an Italian cruiser is reported to have sunk several armored British patrol boats recently have sailed some of the greatest, history-making expeditions of ancient and medieval times," says today's war geography bulletin issued by the National Geographic society in Washington. "This fifty-mile expanse of water which joins the Adriatic and Ionian seas, separates the southeastern extremity or heel of the Italian peninsula from that part of Albania which was known in ancient times as Epirus."

"It is sixty miles from Otranto, the beautifully situated Italian fishing village which gives its name to the straits to Avlona, the nearest port in Albania. Four hundred miles to the northwest are Venice and Trieste at the head of the Adriatic while three hundred and fifty miles to the southwest, beyond the Ionian sea is the British possession, Malta."

"At the beginning of the war Otranto was a town of scarcely more than 2000 inhabitants but of some importance as the Italian terminus of the cable and telegraph line to Constantinople via Avlona. It also had cable connection with the island of Corfu. The town's historical associations date back to Graeco-Roman times for it occupies the site of the ancient Hydruntum and was one of Rome's ports of embarkation for Pollonia, the famous Greek center of culture and city in which the future emperor Augustus, was completing his education at the time that he was summoned to the capital following the assassination of Julius Caesar."

"Otranto was one of the Calabrian towns captured in 1068 by Robert Guiscard (the sly) that resourceful Norman adventurer who, at the high tide of his career, gave promise of duplicating in southern Italy and in Greece the triumphs won by his fellow countryman, William the Conqueror who during the same decade was subduing England. Four hundred years later the seaport was again raided and this time was completely destroyed by the Turks. From this set-back it never recovered. Among the points of interest in the village today are the castle, built by Alphonso of Aragon and the cathedral, which dates back to the eleventh century and in which are to be found some of the columns that once graced the temple of Minerva at San Nicola, nearby."

"South of Otranto is an extremely fertile and populous section of the Apulian peninsula which terminates thirty miles below the town in the promontory of Maria di Leuca with its white limestone cliffs marking the southeastern extremity of Italy. To the northwest of Otranto, fifty three miles by rail is Brindisi the famous Brundisium of the ancients which has taken on new life in recent years, owing to its advantageous position as a gateway for the freight coming from beyond the Alps through the Saint Gothard and the Mt. Cenis tunnels, and destined for the far East through Suez."

"Avlona also called Valona on the eastern shores of the Otranto straits, has the best harbor on the Albanian coast being protected by the island of Saseno and the lofty Cape Glossa. Life Otranto it suffered pillage at the hands of the Turks in the fifteenth century but it recovered from this misfortune more readily than its Italian sister city for it is now a town of 6,000 people and enjoys a considerable trade in hides, olives, cotton, cattle and bitumen while it is famous for valonia made from the acorn cups gathered in adjacent oak groves. This 'flour', which derives its name from the town is used extensively in the tanning industry."

"It was across the Straits of Otranto that the valiant Pyrrhus cousin of Alexander the Great and professed descendant of Pyrrhus son of Achilles, sailed in the third century before the Christian era. Exposing the cause of the people of Tarentum, he fought those desperate battles against Rome which gave rise to the familiar phrase 'a pyrrhic victory' used today to describe a conflict the successful issue of which is so costly to the victor as ultimately to prove disastrous. It was after Heraclea, where for the first time in history Greeks and Romans were the opposing forces, that Pyrrhus surveying the field where thousands of his bravest troops lay dead exclaimed 'Another such victory and I must return to Epirus alone.' It was on the same occasion that, observing the wounds of all the Romans killed in action to be in front he mused 'Had I such soldiers I should soon be master of the world.'

"THE PRINCESS PAT"

It is a pleasure to note that the trivial musical comedy with its patter songs and ragtime is fast being superseded by the higher class musical offerings. Of the latter none are meeting with more favor than Victor Herbert's latest comic opera, "The Princess Pat" which comes to the Opera House on Thursday, Evening, September 28th. This charming opera with its record of over six months at the Cort Theatre, New York, will be presented by a company of singers of the composers own selection. Scenically it will be an entirely new duplicate of the original production. Engaged in the presentation are a number of favorites, including Dorothy South, Lou Powers, Charles Meyers, Carl Stowe, Augustus Buel, Roland Allen, Wilhelmina Raguhild, and others equally well known, besides whom will be the famous Debutante chorus. Seats on Sale Tuesday at 9:30 A. M.

DESIGNERS SAY IMPORTED GOWNS NOT NEEDED

Chicago Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Fall gowns occupied the attention of leading fashion experts of the country in attendance at the Fashion Art League convention here today.

Designers said the gowns this year are a vast improvement over those of other years. They said it would not be necessary to import French gowns hereafter as the American designer have proved they are just as original in creating new styles as the French.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath. Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone whether ailing, sick or well, should each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste cleaning, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives you a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism, and others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the Women's Christian Temperance union of Clearfield county assembled, do gratefully acknowledge the evidence of the Holy Spirit in the development of our work during the past year.

Whereas, we believe in total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors is the only safe rule to follow.

Resolved, That we urge all Christian people to refuse to support any candidate for any office, who is not in sympathy with the temperance movement and opposed to the principle of licensing vice or sin in any form.

Whereas, we believe in the ballot for women, or equal terms with men.

Resolved, That we place greater emphasis upon franchise education this coming year.

Resolved, That we cooperate with the missionary and young peoples societies of the church by inviting them to take a place on our programs, and seeking a place on their programs for temperance, thus uniting Christian workers in this great cause of temperance.

Resolved, That we co-operate with the no-license league of Clearfield county in their effort to make Clearfield county dry.

Resolved, That our united vote of thanks be tendered to our very worthy treasurer, Sister Mary McNaull who has done valiant work.

She indeed has been diligent in business, serving the Lord. We regret that she has resigned her office for the coming year, owing to her physical condition, and trust that she may find the rest from her office beneficial, whilst we know her activities will not cease on other lines of work.

Resolved, That we express our gratitude to the congregation of the M. E. church of Mahaffey for the use of their church, and to all those who have so kindly opened their homes, and have added in any way to make our convention a success.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grams of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and back-ache.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

After eight o'clock last evening Curwensville streets were almost deserted and nearly the entire population wended their way to the M. E. church to hear what Rev. E. B. Hart had to say about the "Angel that led the Way."

Miss Lydia Walker, of Grampian, and her old schoolmate Miss Elizabeth Dunlap of Houtzdale, visited their schoolmates Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Stover this week.

Mr. Cooper, a division superintendent of the Central Tanning company with headquarters at Ridgway, was a town visitor yesterday as was also Benj. Sykes, superintendent of the Clearfield tannery. Mr. Sykes was manager of Summit tannery for a number of years, and it was like coming home to him to pay a visit to old Summit.

The two Bloomer children who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bloom for a month past left today for their home in Bedford county.

The construction of a sewerage system along Tannery Run is again agitating the minds of Filbert street residents. Heretofore house drains have been emptying into the run, and since the council's edict forbidding the dumping of garbage and debris into the run, it has become a problem of what is to be done with the drainage waste from the houses. Councilman Smith has a proposition in view which he will probably ask council to consider at the next regular session which might solve the problem to the satisfaction of all who are interested and at a much smaller cost than has been estimated to culvert the run its entire length.

Summit tannery is hanging in 10-800 pounds of hides per day and will continue to do so for some time to come. The same number of pounds of finished leather is supposed to come from the above pounds of green hides as hung in. To manipulate this successfully requires some thought and figuring.

S. J. Richards has had a proposition put up to him asking him to take a big lumber contract in the Adirondack mountains, the job to last for several years. He is holding the offer under advisement, and he may either accept or reject it.

J. Gus Dale was registered at the Park hotel last evening as coming from Tulsa, Oklahoma. He was born and raised at or near Grampian and will spend some days in and around his old home before returning back west.

Dan Irvin, who spent a portion of the week in Philadelphia and other adjacent towns, returned to his home here last evening.

Mrs. Alice Fullerton and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ray Fullerton, of Clearfield spent several days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fullerton, Irvin Hill.

W. C. Wolf went over to DuBois last evening for the purpose of taking the civil service examination for a government position as a lumber inspector. There are five applicants to be appointed and the lucky ones will be sent to foreign fields, the job to last for several years.

Mrs. Lind Faust and adopted daughter, of Winkinsburg, are visitors in the home of Mrs. Aggar Bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter and Mr.

and Mrs. Newton their guests, motored across the mountain to DuBois yesterday and took in the sights of that young city.

Dr. H. A. Woodside and son Robert of Lumber City, came down from that up river town yesterday and spent several hours with friends.

The annual monthly meeting of the stockholders of the Curwensville Building and Loan association was held in the office of Squire Dale Wednesday evening at which time a goodly amount of business was transacted.

As per announcement, Rev. Hart delivered his famous lecture "The Angel that Led the Way," in the M. E. church last evening. The lecturer was brought here by Bethesda lodge, No. 821 I. O. O. F. at a large expense, although it was not supposed to be a strictly Odd Fellow discourse. Before eight o'clock the auditorium was filled by a large and expectant crowd of people who had received free tickets and in a measure were guests of the local lodge. His talk throughout was all and even more than was claimed for it and was listened to with rapt attention. He presented a good many sound points as to why every man ought to become a member of some good secret society, if for no other reason than it would make him a better man in every respect. The principles upon which Odd Fellowship was founded was dwelt on forcibly and brought out Biblical history and teachings to the fullest extent. All in all the lecture was one of the best and most interesting that has been delivered before a Curwensville audience for many years, and those who were so fortunate as to be present and hear it, will not soon forget Mr. Hart and "The Angel that Led the Way."

ON THE SCREEN

"SHOES"

Based on a story of the same title from Collier's, written by Stella Wynne Herron, and produced by Lois Weber. The idea came originally from a paragraph, in a book by Jane Addams, wherein it is related that a working girl, after months of resistance, was "sold out for a pair of shoes."

Eva Meyer works in a five and ten cent store for five dollars a week. At home her mother takes in washing to help support two smaller children and a lazy beer drinking, novel reading, good for nothing husband and father.

For months Eva has needed a pair of shoes. As the weeks pass the necessity for shoes increases, until, finally heavy rains set in and rot what little there is left of her bedraggled and worthless shoes until they are literally falling from her feet.

Eva brings her unopened pay-envelope home to her mother every Saturday night, to be each time promised that "next week" she should have the money for a pair of shoes. She has set her heart upon a pair that are displayed in a shop-window she passes going to and from her work.

But each week there is a new and valid reason for postponement—the rent must be paid, the merchants will no longer trust them for food, and the worthless father is still out of work. And all this time she sees the money she has earned go for beer, dime novels and food to satisfy her shiftless parent's desires.

Finally, one Saturday night, she demands of her father that he shall provide her with a pair of shoes. Her only solace is the retort from the man who was her natural protector and supporter that he also needed shoes for himself.

Then and there Eva resolves that she shall no longer suffer from sore feet, blistered and splintered from the rough floor upon which she stands behind the counter. One of her fellow slaves in the five and ten cent store has introduced her to a cabaret singer, weeks before; but she steadfastly and indifferently declines his invitations to be entertained.

Eva repairs to her cheerless room in the dreary and stuffy flat; she puts on a clean skirt-waist, lowers her skirt by pinning it around her hips so that her rotten and ragged shoes are hidden, gets cartfare from her mother and says she is going to spend Sunday with her girl friend from the store.

And Monday night Eva returns home from work with the new shoes upon her feet. This is a brief synopsis.

There has been no attempt to more than outline the story of the Bluebird photoplay "Shoes" which will be the attraction at the Opera House Saturday afternoon and evening with Mary MasLaren in the principal role. But those who witness the production may be assured that they will then behold the disclosures of the most humanly gripping and morally wonderfully sociological problem ever set forth in moving pictures.

THE SECOND IN COMMAND

The Metro company takes pride in announcing the debut of the celebrated star, Francis X. Bushman with the Quality Pictures corporation in Clyde Fitch's famous military drama, "The Second in Command."

Mr. Bushman convincingly and masterfully portrays the dashing young English officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Miles Anstruther, first in command of his regiment, who wins the woman he loves, only to lose her through a misunderstanding created by his rival, and his sweetheart's brother, whom he has shielded from ruin and disgrace. Before the snarl is unravelled, Anstruther is ordered to service in Africa, where, under fire, he dramatically effects the rescue of his rival and brother-officer, who remorsefully confesses to the plot that had separated the lovers. After a struggle with self, Anstruther generously forgives his weak and wounded rival, and magnanimously directs that the Victoria Cross, about to be awarded Anstruther, be given, instead to his erstwhile enemy, who had been hurt in trying to bring aid to Anstruther's regiment. Anstruther returns to England to find his sweetheart mourning for him as dead. At their dramatic meeting, she learns of the mistake that had come between them, and Anstruther finds the reward of his nobility and sacrifice in her love. His rival, recognizing the greatness of the man whom he had sought to injure, because of jealousy of his rank, and the woman they both love, is at last content with still "Second in Command" and glad to salute Anstruther as his superior officer.

Mr. Bushman is ably supported in his wonderful characterization by Miss Margaret Snow and an excellent cast. No effort has been spared to make the production an elaborate one, and the stirring drama is magnificently set, the battle scenes realistically vivid in contrast to the peace and beauty of the earlier scenes, and the brilliant hall at which the officers receive news of the order to the front.

At the Globe Saturday afternoon and evening.

It's The Little Things That Make The Hat "Smart"

An exclusive air is elusive in Millinery, because you can't put your finger on one particularly smart feature that accurately defines it. Only in the combination of little things, can you find the perfection that yields distinction at it's best.

These entirely new models in fall Millinery are as expressive of the chic charm of foreign ideals as if they came direct from Paris. They are authentic adaptions by our own milliners and therefore priced very reasonable, instead of at double or more the regular cost of imported originals, we cordially invite you to come and see these new fall creations in Millinery.

Special Attention is Directed To The Showing of Suits at

The new fashions are exemplified in the models priced at $19.75 to a very marked extent. Here are suits fashioned of men's-wear, Serge, Gaberdine, Poplins etc. colors are black, plum, green, navy and brown. The coats are longer than those of preceeding seasons. Skirts are quite full, they fall in graceful lines from the waist, the Coats are trimmed with fur, velvet and buttons. There's much satisfaction and added service in buying early.

Other Suit Prices Range From $17.50 to $60.00

A New Autumn Coat at $17.50

Yes, the price is low—extremely so for such striking models. First of all, they have the new collars, rather large and wide, and when buttoned forms a frame for the neck. They are quite odd and above all else, absolutely new. Three-quarter length, quite full at the bottom; cuffs trimmed to match the collars.

Other Splendid Warm Coats From $9.75 to $47.50

A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY

For one week, only, beginning Monday, October 2nd, Miss Harvey, one of Clearfield's best dressmakers will be with us and will design, cut and fit free of charge any silk or wool dress, shirt, waist, suit or coat, providing you select the materials here.

CINCO CIGARS

New Five Cents Straight

Owing to the increased cost of production, the manufacturers of Cinco Cigars, Otto Eisenlohr & Bros., Incorporated, have advanced their selling price to the dealers, and, in the future, this cigar will be sold to the consumer absolutely at five cents straight, instead of six for a quarter, as heretofore.

The Cinco Cigar has attained a national reputation, and, through the maintenance of a high standard of quality, has become the largest seller in the world, and the manufacturers deemed it advisable to advance the price rather than sacrifice its long-established high quality.

Miss Harvey one of Clearfield's best and most successful dressmakers will be at Leonardson's for one week only beginning October 2nd, she will design, cut and fit free of charge any silk or wool garment purchased at our dress goods counter. S. 20-10t.

"SWAGGER STICKS" NOW POPULAR ON THE BORDER

El Paso Tex., Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—When the Kentucky militia regiments arrived at the border nearly every officer carried a "swagger stick," a short straight wooden wand as is affected by officers of the British army. Regular army officers were disposed to smile and regard the fashion as a "militia affectation." But it added a touch of the picturesque to the officers and Colonel Alton guard who is responsible for the innovation, defends it.

"The swagger stick not only adds the distinctive touch to the officer, which our army lacks, but it aids him in maintaining a military bearing. When carrying some object in the hand, unconsciously the officer will throw his shoulders back and walk erect." Half of the officers on the border now have adopted the "swagger stick."

VILLA ONLY 20 MILES OUT OF THE CITY

Party in Honor of Prospective Bride

Sister of Miss Hilda Johnson Gives
Attractive and Unique Party

Miss Hilda Johnson gave a very attractive and unique party last evening at her home on Daisy street in honor of her sister Miss Hilda Johnson whose wedding will take place next month.

Many interesting and new games were played among which was the fortune wheel which caused much excitement.

Covers were laid for twenty five. Butterflies fluttering from the chandeliers with a ribbon attached to each glass. At the end of the ribbon was a butterfly with the date of the wedding which will be October the fifth.

AMERICAN PEACE MOVE ENTIRELY UNLIKELY

By Ed. L. Kean
London, Sept. 22.—(United Press)—Americans conversant with inside allied sentiments feel certain that a move on the part of the United States to start negotiations for peace in Europe at an early date, is entirely unlikely. The leaders of the allies are determined to continue the war until Germany gives up if this is necessary.

MORE STRIKE INJURIES

New York, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Ten persons were seriously injured today when a taxicab in which they were being carried to work because of the street car strike, collided with a coal truck on Avenue A and 20th street.

KAISER AT KOVEL FRONT

Copenhagen, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Kaiser Wilhelm has arrived at Kovel front according to advices received here today. It is believed that Von Hindenberg is to inaugurate a drive against the Russians.

SLIGHT AUTO ACCIDENT

An auto and buggy both driven by women, collided at the corner of Market and Second streets yesterday but fortunately no serious damage was done.

LITTLE CHILD DEAD

Robert, the interesting little three-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ammerman, died at the family home on West Front street this morning after an illness of about one week. The cause of death was colitis.

MORE TROOPS TO BORDER

Washington, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Two infantry battalions from Wyoming, two from Kansas and two from Wisconsin were today ordered to the border by the war department.

GREECE AND THE GREEKS

Mythology derived the name Greece from an ancient king, Graecus.

The Greeks are fabled to have been the progeny of Javan, fourth son of Japheth.

Athens, the Greek capital, has a population about equal to that of Toledo, Ohio.

Agriculture is the chief industry of Greece and the principal exports are ores, wines, fruits and olive oil.

The national flag of Greece consists of nine stripes, alternate white and blue with a white cross in the blue field.

Education is compulsory in Greece between the ages of 5 and 12, but a large proportion of the population is illiterate.

New York, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—General Trevino, commandant at Chihuahua City sent from Chihuahua city to Juan Burns, Mexican consul here the following telegram: "Permit me to inform you that the reported attack and capture of Chihuahua city is incorrect. My forces have entirely defeated Villa's men. One set of the bandits which attacked the city, did not get away alive. I do not have any doubt that the entire Villista band will be annihilated soon. This attacking I believe was done with the intention of influencing the conference at New London in the American-Mexican conference, or for political interests. They themselves are now satisfied with their failure."

El Paso, Sept. 22.—Although Pancho Villa is only 20 miles out of Chihuahua City, according to official announcement made by the Carranza commanders at Juarez, "vigorous pursuit" of the bandits and his followers has not been taken up since General Trevino is still conferring with his chiefs in regard to the outlaws. Many of the Carranza soldiers have joined Villa on the retreat from Chihuahua city, General Gonzales has received a report that all had announced their intention of joining the bandits.

CARRANZA SOLDIERS MASSACRED BY VILLISTAS

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Two British subjects and 36 out of 38 Carranza soldiers were killed by Villistas near Tula, September 16th, according to officers of the steamer Topito which arrived here today. The attack was made in conjunction with the raid on Chihuahua City.

MILLIONAIRE'S FORMER ATTORNEY MORRISON HELD FOR PERJURY

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—After a dramatic scene in Federal Judge Landis' court today during which Edward W. Morrison, aged millionaire faced and gave the lie to his accusers, Judge Landis ordered John R. Ward, Morrison's former attorney, held for perjury under a $15,000 bond and also perjury charges were brought against Joseph Bernstein. After reviewing the discrepancies in Ward's testimony, the judge criticised Ward and Bernstein severely. "The wells of perjury have never been so forcibly touched as in this case," Edward Harris a former stenographer and Jos. Simmons, jeweler, said that Morrison had spent $200,000 with them, and were held on $2,000 bail as witnesses.

HUGHES' HEALTH IMPAIRED

Muncy, Ind., Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Governor Hughes is just on the frayed edge of a complete breakdown, today and both his personal physician and Mrs. Hughes put up a fight against his filing the second day of his stay in Indiana of the most strenuous programme of speaking that a presidential candidate ever attempted. For a time today cancellation of his speaking engagements was considered but the Governor refused to disappoint the audiences already arranged for, and announced that he would go through with program. Mrs. Hughes got busy with the managers of the train asking them to curtail all speeches, and a delay in switching trains at Anderson aided in this plan.

HOSPITAL BRIDGE WHIST

The Hospital Bridge club held another successful meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Patton in Curwensville yesterday afternoon. Many ladies enjoyed the lovely ride to Curwensville besides the very social afternoon which was spent playing cards. There were eight tables of bridge and three of five hundred. Twelve dollars was realized.

Mabe British Use This Tractor Against Germans

British forces in their tremendous drive against the Germans on the west front, it has just developed, have used some kind of enormous American agricultural tractor, which they have armored and sent against the Germans like a land monitor. This is a tractor made in Peoria, Ill., and those used by the British government were made by the same concern. The idea was developed by Winston Churchill long ago. How successful the American tractor has been in crossing the trenches and slaying Germans the British have not yet reported.

THIRD & MARKET CROSSING HAS AN ACCIDENT

T. J. Norris, Hit by Auto Last
Night During Hail Storm and
Sustains Broken Ribs

AUTO KEEPS RIGHT ON GOING

One of those minor accidents which the Progress mentioned in an editorial calling the attention of the borough authorities to the dangerous condition which exists on account of the narrow driveway on Third street, occurred last night, when T. J. Norris, the well-known tailor, was struck by an automobile while attempting to cross the street and thrown back to the curb, receiving a couple of fractured ribs and other minor bruises.

The accident occurred about 10:30 in the midst of the severe hailstorm which struck this section about that time. Mr. Norris, hurrying from the storm, was in the middle of the narrow street when an automobile drove out of the mist, and before he could jump out of danger, struck him in the side, hurling him to the street. The driver of the car never stopped but throwing on full speed ahead darted up Market street and out Second street toward Curwensville.

Several people who witnessed the accident attempted to get the number of the machine but were unable to do so.

Mr. Norris was taken to the office of Dr. Waterworth, where his injuries were attended to and where it was found that besides suffering the fractured ribs mentioned above he was also suffering from severe contusions and bruises and will be off duty for several days as the result of his injuries.

Meanwhile the Progress insists that it is up to the borough authorities to see that the driveway on Third street is enlarged as it should be, in order that a more serious accident might be avoided.

RETURNED FROM WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kennard of South Second street, returned last evening from a delightful western trip, which extended over a period of almost three months and embraced Yellow Stone National Park the Pacific coast and British Columbia.

The trip was taken in the interest of Mr. Kennard's health and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he comes home very much improved. Dick says they found some nice country and fine climate, but aside from the climate none of the state through which he passed had anything on old Pennsylvania.

SHE HORSEWHIPS MAN AND HIS ALLEGED AFFINITY

House and Severely Punishes
Husband and Companion

PATRONS OF HOUSE IN PANIC

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—One woman was in a critical condition today and many have severe cuts and bruises as the result of a panic following the horse-whipping of a man said to be S. E. Lowrie of 1420 Liverpool St., and a young woman of unascertained identity beside whom he was sitting in a north side motion picture show.

A woman giving the name of Mrs. Lowrie was the whipper. Just as she was passing the place she saw Lowrie enter the theatre apparently with a young woman for whom he held the door open. Mrs. Lowrie hurried home secured the whip, and went back to the theatre. Forcing past the ticket seller and ushers, she started down the aisle and found Lowrie sitting beside the woman for whom he had held the door open. She administered the whip severely upon her husband then turned her attention to the supposed affinity. One woman fainted, and many rushed to the exits.

Lowrie and the woman were arraigned before the police court, where the former explained that he had never seen the woman before and did not know her. His wife said that she believed his story and they left the court room together.

Announce Engagement At Pretty Luncheon

Miss Miriam Anderson to wed Maxwell Steel of Huntingdon in the Fall

At a luncheon today at the home of D. W. Anderson on West Locust street the engagement of Miss Miriam Anderson and Maxwell W. Steel of Huntingdon, Pa., was announced. Covers were laid for twelve, the color scheme was blue and white and in the center of the table was a beautiful arrangement of asters. Miss Ruth Mattern of Huntingdon and Miss Louise Owens of Tyrone were the guests of honor.

Following the luncheon tally cards were passed for bridge and tied to the cards were little envelopes in which were little pieces of paper when put together made a heart with the announcement on it. Miss Anderson's wedding will take place late in the fall.

STREET PAVING BEING RUSHED ON DAISY ST.

Officials Say Paving Cost Will
Be With Estimate Made for
Bond Issue Work

LABOR SCARCITY A HANDICAP

The busiest place in Clearfield these days is on Daisy street where a force of seventy-five men under the direction of the Highway Department of Council is engaged in repaving the street.

This work has been under way the past two months and weather permitting they expect to have it completed by October 1st.

The committee has been greatly handicapped on this job by scarcity of labor first, and then to add to their difficulties they ran out of stone and later on the water supply failed and they were unable to make satisfactory progress with the concrete base for the brick by reason of insufficient water to run the mixer.

All this was remedied last week and the work has been progressing rapidly since that time. Up to last night the concrete base was completed to Fifth street leaving but two blocks to be finished and it was the expectation of Supt. Hughes that he would be able to complete that work by Tuesday next and then move his outfit over to Nichols street which will then be rushed to completion before cold weather sets in. Brick has been laid on Daisy street midway between Seventh and Eighth streets and first four blocks paved already opened to traffic. A tar filler is being used on the brick paving and as fast as the tar dries the street is opened to travel.

The work is now being shoved along rapidly by Foreman Sheehy, Hughes, Moselberger and Time Keeper Guppy and officials say unless bad luck is encountered from here out both streets will be completed at a cost well within the estimates and amounts provided in the bond issue.

Owing to unforeseen conditions the work progressed slowly at first but everything is humming now and will be kept going at a rapid pace until both streets are completed. The work is being well done and a visit to Daisy will disclose a finely paved street.

OFF FOR THE WEST

Mrs. J. M. Troxell and son Milton, left Thursday for a visit with relatives in Denver, Colorado. They were joined at Berwinstale by Mrs. Troxell's sister, Mrs. James McKee and son John who will make the trip with them.

SECOND WEEK OF CIVIL COURT IS AT AN END

Glen Hope Damage Case
Abruptly When Plaintiff
Parts From State

VERDICT IN INSURANCE CASE

The case of H. M. Kurtz vs. the Borough of Glen Hope was taken up in civil court Thursday morning. In the case Mr. Kurtz sought damages for damages to his mill property in Glen Hope due to a collapse of a dam. It appears that the dam collapsed in a boggy previous to 1911, and a small stream or water course ran over a culvert across the street which was insufficient in size to carry the water of said stream at flood times.

An extra large flood occurred in 1911 and the water flooded Mr. Kurtz's mill, destroying a lot of phosphate, flour, etc. stored in the basement of the mill. The thing occurred in 1915 and as a result Mr. Kurtz entered suit against the borough asking for $300 damages.

The plaintiff was represented by Cole & Hartwick, while John M. Urey, Esq. had charge of the defense for the borough. The case was brought to a sudden close during the afternoon when the plaintiff attempted to prove some things that did not appear in his statement of facts. Objection was made and on plaintiff's offer to amend, the defendant's attorney plead surprise and the case called right there, and court ended on the week.

The jury in the case of Thompson et al. against the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia and the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. rendered a verdict of $117,000 damages. The total and of $320,000 claimed by the Thompson company, being the balance claimed on the policy for which suit was brought.

Dr. Ament Leaving Indiana Normal

Will go to National Park Seminary
in Washington, D. C.

Dr. James Ament who has been the guiding genius of Indiana Normal for the past ten years, is to leave that institution. Dr. Ament is to be affiliated with Joseph O'Brien, Treasurer of Pittsburgh, who purchased the National Park seminary that famous exclusive suburban school for girls at Washington, D. C. The institution is the finest of American private schools for girls. The purchase of the school by Mr. O'Brien was not a financial move on his part, he stated, but that the school had been bought for his friend, Dr. Ament. The entire management of the school will rest in the hands of Mr. O'Brien and Dr. Ament.

Dr. Ament will not leave Indiana Normal for a year so that the trustees will have ample time to select a successor. Dr. Ament is an educator of national reputation, well recognized as the veritable genius in the management of a school.

GERMANY MASSSES LARGE FORCES

By Ed. L. Kean

London, Sept. 22.—(United Press)—Germany will set another peace line flying about the middle of October, British officialdom both military and civil confidently expect. News from apparently authentic sources have reached London that the Germans are massing huge forces because of the recent allied offensive. British troops continued a great drive on the Somme and captured 2 lines of German trenches on a mile front last night. General Haig reported this afternoon. The gains were made on Fiers and Martinpuich. South of Arras the British troops captured some trenches. In the Belgian there was a fierce encounter near Vrasco, and the Germans are actively pursuing the retreating army of Belgians, who have been thrust back north of Flanders. Violent attacks were made on the French lines north of the Somme, but were repulsed by French troops.

Mrs. L. G. Rank, Mrs. J. Rank, Mrs. Dunwidde of Philadelphia were shopping in town yesterday.

WAR, THE DUAL CREATOR OF HATE AND CHARITY

War is all and more too than General Sherman said it was, but it will be to the everlasting credit of the American nation to recall that during the first two years of this awful European war the American people have contributed $28,886,000 to lighten its burden for those innocent non-combatants in the different countries devastated.

AN OBJECT LESSON

The Philadelphia Board of Health has ordered prosecutions in 100 cases of owners of stables maintaining open or uncovered manure pits following a statement from Dr. Dixon to the effect that he believed the infantile paralysis germ was carried by flies breeding in uncovered manure pits.

Dr. Dixon has also been able to infect monkeys with the disease from flies, captured in the room of an infantile paralysis victim by merely placing the flies in the same cage as the animals.

The Philadelphia action should point the way for our local board of health and serve as a warning to violators of the recent clean-up notice.

Do not be selfish enough to place self interest above the common good or public health.

A CASE FOR THE CLEANER

Clearfield is spending a great deal of money for permanent improvements and beautifying its streets and general appearance. The results of persistent activity along this line are very noticeable but there are a few spots that need attention badly and we desire to suggest that the Womens Club, the Civic Club, the Chamber of Commerce and all other organizations petition the New York Central to clean up the lot alongside of the River-view Hotel where the ties are piled. The piling of ties on this plot of ground would not be so objectionable were they piled in order and the plot kept clean but today it presents the appearance of a lumber yard after a hurricane. It might be encouraging to those of town who are interested in its appearance to know that there is a well founded rumor that plans are being made for a new depot at Clearfield. As a drowning man grasps a straw, absorb this bit of encouragement and politely request the cleaning up of the tie yard.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

"Across the Straits of Otranto, where an Italian cruiser is reported to have sunk several armored British patrol boats recently have sailed some of the greatest, history-making expeditions of ancient and medieval times," says today's war geography bulletin issued by the National Geographic society in Washington. "This fifty-mile expanse of water which joins the Adriatic and Ionian seas, separates the southeastern extremity or heel of the Italian peninsula from that part of Albania which was known in ancient times as Epirus."

"It is sixty miles from Otranto, the beautifully situated Italian fishing village which gives its name to the straits to Avlona, the nearest port in Albania. Four hundred miles to the northwest are Venice and Trieste at the head of the Adriatic while three hundred and fifty miles to the southwest, beyond the Ionian sea is the British possession, Malta."

"At the beginning of the war Otranto was a town of scarcely more than 2000 inhabitants but of some importance as the Italian terminus of the cable and telegraph line to Constantinople via Avlona. It also had cable connection with the island of Corfu. The town's historical associations date back to Graeco-Roman times for it occupies the site of the ancient Hydrus and was one of Rome's ports of embarkation for Pollonia, the famous Greek center of culture and city in which the future emperor Augustus, was completing his education at the time that he was summoned to the capital following the assassination of Julius Caesar."

"Otranto was one of the Calabrian towns captured in 1068 by Robert Guiscard (the sly) that resourceful Norman adventurer who, at the high tide of his career, gave promise of duplicating in southern Italy and in Greece the triumphs won by his fellow countryman, William the Conqueror who during the same decade was subduing England. Four hundred years later the seaport was again raided and this time was completely destroyed by the Turks. From this set-back it never recovered. Among the points of interest in the village today are the castle, built by Alphonso of Aragon and the cathedral, which dates back to the eleventh century and in which are to be found some of the columns that once graced the temple of Minerva at San Nicola, nearby."

"South of Otranto is an extremely fertile and populous section of the Apulian peninsula which terminates thirty miles below the town in the promontory of Maria di Leuca with its white limestone cliffs marking the southeastern extremity of Italy. To the northwest of Otranto, fifty three miles by rail is Brindisi the famous Brundisium of the ancients which has taken on new life in recent years, owing to its advantageous position as a gateway for the freight coming from beyond the Alps through the Saint Gothard and the Mt. Cenis tunnels, and destined for the far East through Suez."

"Avlona also called Valona on the eastern shores of the Otranto straits, has the best harbor on the Albanian coast being protected by the island of Saseno and the lofty Cape Glossa. Life Otranto it suffered pillage at the hands of the Turks in the fifteenth century but it recovered from this misfortune more readily than its Italian sister city for it is now a town of 6,000 people and enjoys a considerable trade in hides, olives, cotton, cattle and bitumen while it is famous for valonia made from the acorn cups gathered in adjacent oak groves. This 'flour', which derives its name from the town is used extensively in the tanning industry."

"It was across the Straits of Otranto that the valiant Pyrrhus cousin of Alexander the Great and professed descendant of Pyrrhus son of Achilles, sailed in the third century before the Christian era. Exposing the cause of the people of Tarentum, he fought those desperate battles against Rome which gave rise to the familiar phrase 'a pyrrhic victory' used today to describe a conflict the successful issue of which is so costly to the victor as ultimately to prove disastrous. It was after Heraclea, where for the first time in history Greeks and Romans were the opposing forces, that Pyrrhus surveying the field where thousands of his bravest troops lay dead exclaimed 'Another such victory and I must return to Epirus alone.' It was on the same occasion that, observing the wounds of all the Romans killed in action to be in front he mused 'Had I such soldiers I should soon be master of the world.'

"THE PRINCESS PAT"

It is a pleasure to note that the trivial musical comedy with its patter songs and ragtime is fast being superseded by the higher class musical offerings. Of the latter none are meeting with more favor than Victor Herbert's latest comic opera, "The Princess Pat" which comes to the Opera House on Thursday, Evening, September 28th. This charming opera with its record of over six months at the Cort Theatre, New York, will be presented by a company of singers of the composers own selection. Scenically it will be an entirely new duplicate of the original production. Engaged in the presentation are a number of favorites, including Dorothy South, Lou Powers, Charles Meyers, Carl Stowe, Augustus Buel, Roland Allen, Wilhelmina Raguhild, and others equally well known, besides whom will be the famous Debutante chorus. Seats on Sale Tuesday at 9:30 A. M.

DESIGNERS SAY IMPORTED GOWNS NOT NEEDED

Chicago Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—Fall gowns occupied the attention of leading fashion experts of the country in attendance at the Fashion Art League convention here today.

Designers said the gowns this year are a vast improvement over those of other years. They said it would not be necessary to import French gowns hereafter as the American designer have proved they are just as original in creating new styles as the French.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath. Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone whether ailing, sick or well, should each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste cleaning, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives you a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism, and others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the Women's Christian Temperance union of Clearfield county assembled, do gratefully acknowledge the evidence of the Holy Spirit in the development of our work during the past year.

Whereas, we believe in total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors is the only safe rule to follow.

Resolved, That we urge all Christian people to refuse to support any candidate for any office, who is not in sympathy with the temperance movement and opposed to the principle of licensing vice or sin in any form.

Whereas, we believe in the ballot for women, or equal terms with men.

Resolved, That we place greater emphasis upon franchise education this coming year.

Resolved, That we cooperate with the missionary and young peoples societies of the church by inviting them to take a place on our programs, and seeking a place on their programs for temperance, thus uniting Christian workers in this great cause of temperance.

Resolved, That we co-operate with the no-license league of Clearfield county in their effort to make Clearfield county dry.

Resolved, That our united vote of thanks be tendered to our very worthy treasurer, Sister Mary McNaull who has done valiant work.

She indeed has been diligent in business, serving the Lord.

We regret that she has resigned her office for the coming year, owing to her physical condition, and trust that she may find the rest from her office beneficial, whilst we know her activities will not cease on other lines of work.

Resolved, That we express our gratitude to the congregation of the M. E. church of Mahaffey for the use of their church, and to all those who have so kindly opened their homes, and have added in any way to make our convention a success.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grams of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and back-ache.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

After eight o'clock last evening Curwensville streets were almost deserted and nearly the entire population wended their way to the M. E. church to hear what Rev. E. B. Hart had to say about the "Angel that led the Way."

Miss Lydia Walker, of Grampian, and her old schoolmate Miss Elizabeth Dunlap of Houtzdale, visited their schoolmates Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Stover this week.

Mr. Cooper, a division superintendent of the Central Tanning company with headquarters at Ridgway, was a town visitor yesterday as was also Benj. Sykes, superintendent of the Clearfield tannery. Mr. Sykes was manager of Summit tannery for a number of years, and it was like coming home to him to pay a visit to old Summit.

The two Bloomer children who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bloom for a month past left today for their home in Bedford county.

The construction of a sewerage system along Tannery Run is again agitating the minds of Filbert street residents. Heretofore house drains have been emptying into the run, and since the council's edict forbidding the dumping of garbage and debris into the run, it has become a problem of what is to be done with the drainage waste from the houses. Councilman Smith has a proposition in view which he will probably ask council to consider at the next regular session which might solve the problem to the satisfaction of all who are interested and at a much smaller cost than has been estimated to culvert the run its entire length.

Summit tannery is hanging in 10-800 pounds of hides per day and will continue to do so for some time to come. The same number of pounds of finished leather is supposed to come from the above pounds of green hides as hung in. To manipulate this successfully requires some thought and figuring.

S. J. Richards has had a proposition put up to him asking him to take a big lumber contract in the Adirondack mountains, the job to last for several years. He is holding the offer under advisement, and he may either accept or reject it.

J. Gus Dale was registered at the Park hotel last evening as coming from Tulsa, Oklahoma. He was born and raised at or near Grampian and will spend some days in and around his old home before returning back west.

Dan Irvin, who spent a portion of the week in Philadelphia and other adjacent towns, returned to his home here last evening.

Mrs. Alice Fullerton and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ray Fullerton, of Clearfield spent several days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fullerton, Irvin Hill.

W. C. Wolf went over to DuBois last evening for the purpose of taking the civil service examination for a government position as a lumber inspector. There are five applicants to be appointed and the lucky ones will be sent to foreign fields, the job to last for several years.

Mrs. Lind Faust and adopted daughter, of Winkinsburg, are visitors in the home of Mrs. Aggar Bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter and Mr.

and Mrs. Newton their guests, motored across the mountain to DuBois yesterday and took in the sights of that young city.

Dr. H. A. Woodside and son Robert of Lumber City, came down from that up river town yesterday and spent several hours with friends.

The annual monthly meeting of the stockholders of the Curwensville Building and Loan association was held in the office of Squire Dale Wednesday evening at which time a goodly amount of business was transacted.

As per announcement, Rev. Hart delivered his famous lecture "The Angel that Led the Way," in the M. E. church last evening. The lecturer was brought here by Bethesda lodge, No. 821 I. O. O. F. at a large expense, although it was not supposed to be a strictly Odd Fellow discourse. Before eight o'clock the auditorium was filled by a large and expectant crowd of people who had received free tickets and in a measure were guests of the local lodge. His talk throughout was all and even more than was claimed for it and was listened to with rapt attention. He presented a good many sound points as to why every man ought to become a member of some good secret society, if for no other reason than it would make him a better man in every respect. The principles upon which Odd Fellowship was founded was dwelt on forcibly and brought out Biblical history and teachings to the fullest extent. All in all the lecture was one of the best and most interesting that has been delivered before a Curwensville audience for many years, and those who were so fortunate as to be present and hear it, will not soon forget Mr. Hart and "The Angel that Led the Way."

ON THE SCREEN

"SHOES"

Based on a story of the same title from Collier's, written by Stella Wynne Herron, and produced by Lois Weber. The idea came originally from a paragraph, in a book by Jane Addams, wherein it is related that a working girl, after months of resistance, was "sold out for a pair of shoes."

Eva Meyer works in a five and ten cent store for five dollars a week. At home her mother takes in washing to help support two smaller children and a lazy beer drinking, novel reading, good for nothing husband and father.

For months Eva has needed a pair of shoes. As the weeks pass the necessity for shoes increases, until, finally heavy rains set in and rot what little there is left of her bedraggled and worthless shoes until they are literally falling from her feet.

Eva brings her unopened pay-envelope home to her mother every Saturday night, to be each time promised that "next week" she should have the money for a pair of shoes. She has set her heart upon a pair that are displayed in a shop-window she passes going to and from her work.

But each week there is a new and valid reason for postponement—the rent must be paid, the merchants will no longer trust them for food, and the worthless father is still out of work. And all this time she sees the money she has earned go for beer, dime novels and food to satisfy her shiftless parent's desires.

Finally, one Saturday night, she demands of her father that he shall provide her with a pair of shoes. Her only solace is the retort from the man who was her natural protector and supporter that he also needed shoes for himself.

Then and there Eva resolves that she shall no longer suffer from sore feet, blistered and splintered from the rough floor upon which she stands behind the counter. One of her fellow slaves in the five and ten cent store has introduced her to a cabaret singer, weeks before; but she steadfastly and indifferently declines his invitations to be entertained.

Eva repairs to her cheerless room in the dreary and stuffy flat; she puts on a clean skirt-waist, lowers her skirt by pinning it around her hips so that her rotten and ragged shoes are hidden, gets cartfare from her mother and says she is going to spend Sunday with her girl friend from the store.

And Monday night Eva returns home from work with the new shoes upon her feet. This is a brief synopsis.

There has been no attempt to more than outline the story of the Bluebird photoplay "Shoes" which will be the attraction at the Opera House Saturday afternoon and evening with Mary MasLaren in the principal role. But those who witness the production may be assured that they will then behold the disclosures of the most humanly gripping and morally wonderfully sociological problem ever set forth in moving pictures.

THE SECOND IN COMMAND

The Metro company takes pride in announcing the debut of the celebrated star, Francis X. Bushman with the Quality Pictures corporation in Clyde Fitch's famous military drama, "The Second in Command."

Mr. Bushman convincingly and masterfully portrays the dashing young English officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Miles Anstruther, first in command of his regiment, who wins the woman he loves, only to lose her through a misunderstanding created by his rival, and his sweetheart's brother, whom he has shielded from ruin and disgrace. Before the snarl is unravelled, Anstruther is ordered to service in Africa, where, under fire, he dramatically effects the rescue of his rival and brother-officer, who remorsefully confesses to the plot that had separated the lovers. After a struggle with self, Anstruther generously forgives his weak and wounded rival, and magnanimously directs that the Victoria Cross, about to be awarded Anstruther, be given, instead to his erstwhile enemy, who had been hurt in trying to bring aid to Anstruther's regiment. Anstruther returns to England to find his sweetheart mourning for him as dead. At their dramatic meeting, she learns of the mistake that had come between them, and Anstruther finds the reward of his nobility and sacrifice in her love. His rival, recognizing the greatness of the man whom he had sought to injure, because of jealousy of his rank, and the woman they both love, is at last content with still "Second in Command" and glad to salute Anstruther as his superior officer.

Mr. Bushman is ably supported in his wonderful characterization by Miss Margaret Snow and an excellent cast. No effort has been spared to make the production an elaborate one, and the stirring drama is magnificently set, the battle scenes realistically vivid in contrast to the peace and beauty of the earlier scenes, and the brilliant ball at which the officers receive news of the order to the front.

At the Globe Saturday afternoon and evening.

It's The Little Things That Make The Hat "Smart"

An exclusive air is elusive in Millinery, because you can't put your finger on one particularly smart feature that accurately defines it. Only in the combination of little things, can you find the perfection that yields distinction at it's best.

These entirely new models in fall Millinery are as expressive of the chic charm of foreign ideals as if they came direct from Paris. They are authentic adaptions by our own milliners and therefore priced very reasonable, instead of at double or more the regular cost of imported originals, we cordially invite you to come and see these new fall creations in Millinery.

Special Attention is Directed To The Showing of Suits at

The new fashions are exemplified in the models priced at $19.75 to a very marked extent. Here are suits fashioned of men's-wear, Serge, Gaberdine, Poplins etc. colors are black, plum, green, navy and brown. The coats are longer than those of preceeding seasons. Skirts are quite full, they fall in graceful lines from the waist, the Coats are trimmed with fur, velvet and buttons. There's much satisfaction and added service in buying early.

Other Suit Prices Range From $17.50 to $60.00

A New Autumn Coat at $17.50

Yes, the price is low—extremely so for such striking models. First of all, they have the new collars, rather large and wide, and when buttoned forms a frame for the neck. They are quite odd and above all else, absolutely new. Three-quarter length, quite full at the bottom; cuffs trimmed to match the collars.

Other Splendid Warm Coats From $9.75 to $47.50

A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY

For one week, only, beginning Monday, October 2nd, Miss Harvey, one of Clearfield's best dressmakers will be with us and will design, cut and fit free of charge any silk or wool dress, shirt, waist, suit or coat, providing you select the materials here.

CINCO CIGARS

New Five Cents Straight

Owing to the increased cost of production, the manufacturers of Cinco Cigars, Otto Eisenlohr & Bros., Incorporated, have advanced their selling price to the dealers, and, in the future, this cigar will be sold to the consumer absolutely at five cents straight, instead of six for a quarter, as heretofore.

The Cinco Cigar has attained a national reputation, and, through the maintenance of a high standard of quality, has become the largest seller in the world, and the manufacturers deemed it advisable to advance the price rather than sacrifice its long-established high quality.

Miss Harvey one of Clearfield's best and most successful dressmakers will be at Leonardson's for one week only beginning October 2nd, she will design, cut and fit free of charge any silk or wool garment purchased at our dress goods counter. S. 20-10t.

NOTICE TO COAL DEALERS

"SWAGGER STICKS" NOW POPULAR ON THE BORDER

El Paso Tex., Sept. 22.—(By United Press)—When the Kentucky militia regiments arrived at the border nearly every officer carried a "swagger stick," a short straight wooden wand as is affected by officers of the British army. Regular army officers were disposed to smile and regard the fashion as a "militia affectation." But it added a touch of the picturesque to the officers and Colonel Altonal guard who is responsible for the innovation, defends it.

"The swagger stick not only adds the distinctive touch to the officer, which our army lacks, but it aids him in maintaining a military bearing. When carrying some object in the hand, unconsciously the officer will throw his shoulders back and walk erect." Half of the officers on the border now have adopted the "swagger stick."
